1. The relationship between college student management and ideological and political education

1.1. Student management is a platform for ideological and political education

In college education, ideological and political education is an extremely important part. Teachers can not only integrate ideological and political education into daily teaching and campus activities, but also organize them to carry out some social practice activities, so as to better implement the ideological and political education concept ^[1]. By integrating ideological and political education into student management work, it can have a deeper impact on the thinking and behavior of college students, so that they can learn more ideological and political knowledge, which will greatly promote their future development. Moreover, the integration of student management work and ideological and political education can make students form a better learning state, which is also the only way to promote students' more comprehensive development. It can be seen from this that student management is an important platform for teachers to carry out ideological and political education.

1.2. Ideological and political education is the inexhaustible driving force for student management

In the study management work, the ideological and political elements in the work can better play the educational effect of ideological and political education, for the development of student management work to provide inexhaustible power. In a multicultural background, students will encounter many value orientations in society. These values may have a great impact on students' behavior, thinking, etc. ^[2] By integrating ideological and political education into the student management work, teachers can help students carry out a more in-depth analysis of the ideological situation of students, and help students establish correct values through imperceptible means, which can enable students to better restrain their behaviors and promote their long-term and comprehensive development.

2. The significance of the integration of college student management and ideological and political education

2.1. It is conducive to improving the level of ideological and political education

In educational activities, ideological and political education is an extremely important content, which has distinct knowledge characteristics and manifestations and is closely related to the social system of the country, which can promote college students to have a deeper understanding of the core qualities of socialism. However, in ideological and political education, there are still some problems that have not been solved, and students' interest in ideological and political education work is not high, which will harm their later learning activities ^[3]. Through the integration of student management work and ideological and political education, it can effectively broaden the path of ideological and political education work, enrich the content of education, greatly improve the effect of ideological and political education, and promote students to have a deeper understanding of the content of ideological and political education. The integration of student management work and ideological and political education can create a better educational environment, and the quality of student management work will be greatly improved, thus promoting the level of ideological and political education work to a new height.

2.2. It is conducive to improving student management work

The quality of student management will have a profound impact on the future development of students. Through the integration of student management with ideological and political education, student management can become more perfect, which is also an important way to improve the effect of student management. At present, when many teachers carry out student management, they usually manage students by knowledge, and take daily behavior as the focus of management work, ignoring the management of students' ideological state. This is not conducive to the formation of students' healthy psychological state and hinders their long-term development in the future ^[4]. By integrating student management with ideological and political education, teachers can better highlight their educational responsibilities, highlight their management functions, enable teachers to carry out student management activities more efficiently and improve the process and system of student management.

3. The integration of university student management work and ideological and political education

3.1. There are differences in learning situation

Nowadays, most students' family environment is relatively well-off, they have not experienced too much hardship in childhood, and their parents are always ready for them, which leads to many students forming an unconstrained mentality, their self-management ability is weak, and the corresponding lack of self-discipline. At the same time, many students have a strong personal consciousness, and they may have a certain resistance to the student management work carried out by teachers, which will affect the quality of the actual student management work and hinder the integration and practice of ideological and political elements ^[5]. Although some students can abide by the rules and regulations of the school on the surface, they do not fully recognize these rules in their hearts, which leads to the incomplete implementation of many systems. Some students are not mature enough in thinking and cannot distinguish right from wrong, beauty and ugliness, which will also hinder the integration of ideological and political education.

3.2. Different integration goals

Student management work and ideological and political education have certain differences in goals. Ideological and political education work pays more attention to the guidance of students' thoughts, while student management work tends to the management of students' behaviors. In addition, the content of ideological and political education is more abstract, and students do not have a deep feeling of relevant knowledge in daily life. Student management work mostly needs the assistance of systems and regulations, and students can feel its influence ^[6]. However, student management work and ideological and political education also have something in common, that is, to promote students' more comprehensive development. Failure to integrate student management with ideological and political education will have a great impact on the future development of students and prevent them from achieving a more comprehensive promotion.

3.3. Single integration path

In order to improve the integration effect of student management work and ideological and political education, it is necessary to ensure the diversity of integration paths, so as to lay a solid foundation for future work. However, the current management system and education system of many schools are independent, which will greatly hinder the integration of student management work and ideological and political education in the future ^[7]. Ideological and political education generally has a fixed curriculum, but there is no clear curriculum arrangement for student management work, teachers need to carry out phased adjustments according to the actual situation of students. In the process of the integration of student management work and ideological and political education, it is difficult to find a suitable meeting point.

4. The integration strategy of college student management and ideological and political education

4.1. Improving the level of ideological and political education of teachers

In order to improve the integration effect of student management and ideological and political education, it is important to pay attention to the improvement of teachers' ideological and political education levels to help them better integrate ideological and political education with student management and improve the education effect. A lot of ideological and political education content has a strong theory, which has higher requirements for teachers' knowledge reserve. However, many teachers lack corresponding plans and arrangements when integrating them into student management work, and lack corresponding experience in ideological and political education, which is also an obstacle to the incomplete integration of student management work and ideological and political education^[8]. Therefore, improving the level of ideological and political education of teachers can help them to further optimize the current integration plan, improving the process and content of the integration of student management and ideological and political education. In the student management work, teachers should attach importance to the expansion and introduction of ideological and political education content to greatly improve the systematicness and integrity of student management work and gradually build a more perfect integration system of student management and ideological and political education. According to the actual situation of students, when carrying out student management, teachers can formulate a clear plan for the integration of ideological and political education, which can also be assisted by Internet technology, big data technology and new media technology in the form, so as to provide students with a more intuitive learning experience^[9]. In the integration of student management work and ideological and political education, teachers should be fully prepared, after the completion of the education work, to reflect after class, find the problems of the integration of the two and actively modify, so as to greatly improve the effect of the integration of student management work and ideological and political education.

4.2. Make clear the professional orientation of teachers

In the education enterprise of the country, the integration of student management and ideological and political education is an extremely important work. To realize the full integration of the two, teachers should define their career positioning, so that they can better serve students. Generally speaking, schools and departments bear different educational responsibilities. From the point of view of the department, the main job of teachers is to manage the students in good quality. From the school level, teachers need to undertake corresponding teaching tasks. In this context, teachers should define their role positioning to better complete the task^[10]. However, in the actual work, teachers will encounter many challenges. For example, after some department leaders assign tasks, teachers need to analyze them according to the urgency of the task. If the task is urgent, teachers need to execute it immediately. If the task is less urgent, the teacher will focus on teaching. Similarly, when integrating student management with ideological and political education, teachers should make clear the urgency of both. If students' discipline is too poor, they can focus on student management and carry out appropriate ideological and political education^[11]. If students have more ideological problems, teachers should take ideological and political education as the focus of their work. By clarifying the professional orientation of teachers, students' management work can be better integrated with ideological and political education, and students can get more long-term development.

4.3. Coordinate ideological and political education and student management models

In the work of college education, student management and ideological and political education are inseparable two important contents. The integration of student management and ideological and political education can create a better educational environment and cultivate more high-quality talents for society. To achieve the goal of the integration of the two, teachers should actively explore a new model of student management work, and better integrate it with ideological and political education to create a new developmental and progressive education system^[12]. Teachers should realize the important role of student management in ideological and political education, which can not only regulate students' daily behavior and maintain campus order but also help students establish correct values and promote them to form a more perfect personality. Therefore, teachers should attach importance to the integration of student management and ideological and political education to help students develop more comprehensively.

In addition, teachers can formulate a more explicit student management work based on the actual development of students to ensure the consistency of student management work and ideological and political education goals to enhance the effectiveness of student management work and enhance the depth of ideological and political education work. When formulating the goals of student management work, teachers should put students' spiritual training in an important position, and actively develop students' moral level and mental health levels so that they can maintain a good attitude in their later life and study. Teachers should actively adjust the means of student management, making it full of ideological and political education connotations ^[13]. In the student management work, teachers should actively explore the ideological and political elements contained in it, so that these elements can be better integrated into the student management work. It will become an important means to train students to develop more comprehensively. When integrating student management work with ideological and political education, teachers should exert importance on the judgment of students' differences, so that every student can receive good management and education. As for the effect of the integration of student management and ideological and political education, teachers should do a good job of reflection, regularly evaluate the degree of integration of the two, find out the existing problems, timely adjust the integration strategy, and ensure the realization of education goals.

5. Improve ideological and political education and student management

In order to improve the effect of the integration of student management and ideological and political education, teachers should pay attention to the improvement and innovation of the content of student management and ideological and political education to establish a higher level of integration goal and enhance the depth of integration of the two. For example, when conducting student dormitory management, teachers can integrate some ideological and political elements of fairness and justice into it to guide students' dormitory life ^[14]. High-quality dormitory management can create a high-quality learning and living environment for students, and greatly promote their quality development and the formation of good habits. To improve the integration effect of student management and ideological and political education, teachers can carry out the selection activities by selecting star-rated dormitories to achieve the integration of student management and ideological and political education, so that students can be more civilized and polite in their daily lives.

In addition, in some schools in the evening self-study often appears poor records, students skip classes and other situations, then teachers can introduce ideological and political education elements, cultivate their habits of abiding by rules and regulations, and then promote them to form positive, healthy ideals and beliefs. Teachers can combine the actual situation of the school, create a "no one study room," teachers can add a suggestion box in the study room, to collect students' opinions, and improve the management level of the study room ^[15]. In this way, a good learning atmosphere can be created, and the integration effect of student management and ideological and political education can be improved.

6. Summary

To sum up, in order to further improve the integration effect of college student management and ideological and political education, teachers can improve their ideological and political education level, clarify the professional orientation of teachers, coordinate ideological and political education and student management model, and improve the ideological and political education and student management content and other aspects of the analysis, to virtually promote the quality of college student management and ideological and political education to a new height.
